President's Corner.....

Greetings KAACE Members!

Wow! Summer is almost gone. Hopefully you have found an opportunity to be outside and to enjoy some summer activities or to take a vacation before all of our attention is focused on fall and a new school year. There is so much going on with KAACE and in adult education. I wanted to give you the highlights and hope that you will be involved with these opportunities.

KAACE Cookbooks! During the past few months, Pam Morgan and the KAACE Cookbook committee have been busy gathering recipes for a cookbook that will benefit KAACE Scholarships. I hope that you have submitted your favorite recipes. I collect cookbooks, and truly enjoy sitting down just to read or "research" in my cookbooks. Look for additional information in the newsletter about the cookbooks and where or when they will be available.

KAACE/KYAE Fall Institute. This fall KAACE and KYAE are partnering to bring you a great professional development opportunity. On November 29 and 30, at the Galt House in Louisville, you can join your adult education colleagues for the "Absolute Engagement" Fall Institute. Thursday afternoon will have several workshops that will assist you with your classroom instruction; Friday morning will be devoted to legislative and policy issues, with a panel of legislators and policy makers that will enlighten you on upcoming issues for the next General Assembly. There will be breakout sessions that will appeal to everyone, from working at the grassroots level with your students, to the state level or federal level. Hopefully you will leave the institute with ideas that you can use in your local programs with your students as well as with your legislators. You will receive two professional development credits for attending the two day meeting. Read Julie Scoskie, Institute Chairman's article with details regarding the schedule, or catch the registration information in News to Use!

KAACE Elections. This is the year to hold the KAACE election of officers. There will be a KAACE general meeting on Friday, November 30, during breakfast at the Fall Institute. All of the officer positions, including the standing committees and the regional representatives, are up for election. Be involved in KAACE, run for office or support some of your colleagues who work to benefit all of adult education students, educators, and staff. Only KAACE members are eligible to vote.

KAACE Professional Development Scholarships. New this year, as an incentive for KAACE membership, KAACE is sponsoring two, $500 professional development scholarships PER REGION, for any adult educator to use for a professional development event that will enable them to become a better adult educator or to better serve their adult education students. Look for the KAACE Booth at the Regional Conferences where the applications will be available. They will be awarded at the Fall Institute. Only KAACE members are eligible to apply for these scholarships.

COABE 2009. As the KAACE Co-chairs, Julie Scoskie and Charles Ludwig, continue to make plans for the 2009 COABE Conference that will be held in Louisville at the Galt House, we need to come up with a theme for the conference. Put on your "thinking caps" and submit your ideas for a theme for the conference. KAACE will recognize and reward the person with the theme that is chosen for the conference.

Thanks for all of your efforts on behalf of adult education and KAACE. Enjoy the KYAE regional meetings; I'll see you at the KAACE/KYAE Fall Institute!

Sincerely,
Jonell Tobin, Ed.D.
KAACE President

COABE NEWS.....

Congratulations to Dr. Jim Berger who was recently elected as the new Regional 2 Representative for the Commission on Adult Basic Education (COABE). Region 2 includes the states of Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, New Jersey, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia, and the District of Columbia. Dr. Berger will serve a 3 year term beginning in July of 2007.

Dr. Renae Harrison will remain on the COABE board as co-chair of the COABE professional Development committee for the next biennium.

At the recent COABE conference in Philadelphia in March 2007, Kentucky had more people in attendance than any other state, other than Pennsylvania. It was noticed.

REGIONAL NEWS

From Anne Reeder- Workplace Rep

Steve Popple who worked with Adult Education several years ago in the areas of professional development, has been working with Gateway Community and Technical College for the past few years. He has been appointed Coordinator of Institutional Research at Gateway. He sends these greetings to adult education providers:

"Hello adult education providers. To update you, I have recently accepted a position as Coordinator of Institutional Research with Gateway Community & Technical College. I am happy to have had contact with adult education providers through the years in positions and other side projects I have been involved in, and I look forward to further work with and regarding adult education. Especially in the area of building stronger bridges for students as they graduate from adult education programs and consider postsecondary education. I am pleased to say there is still a Popple very much in the adult education mix though. My wife, Betsy, works for Kenton County Adult Education and is the new Region 4 Math Trainer. Please let me know how you are doing by dropping me a line every once and a while (email: steve.popple@kctcs.edu). Adult education will always be in my blood and has contributed immensely to where I am now. I am blessed for my experiences in adult education and people I have met. Thank you for the work you are doing and keep up the good work."

This is what all is about! Congratulations to all the Grads!

Greetings! It is hard to believe that we are starting another year. The KYAE Fall Conference and the KYAE/KAACE Fall Institute will be packed with networking and learning opportunities. Once again, many thanks to those who submitted recipes to the cookbook. It is coming along. There will be more information about in the Fall newsletter.

My apologies to those in the Year in Review pictures for not listing names. I didn't have all the names and I didn't want to leave anyone out. If you have anything for the Fall newsletter please submit it to pam.morgan@logan.kyschools.us by October 20th. Have a great year!
